DE VALERA PHANTOM REBEL REPORTED CAUGHT

Trapshooters Face Heavy Houston Rains

HOUSTON, April 11.—Heavy rain greeted trap shooters from all parts of the country who were here today to attend the annual Sunny South shoot which was scheduled to start at 9 a. m.

Two hundred targets a day is the program for Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, followed by the Sunny South preliminary Saturday.

Tuesday the visiting runners spent the afternoon at the traps learning the locations of the traps and the vagaries of the wind. A north wind will shoot the targets up while a south wind keep them low.

In a final shoot yesterday Boyd Duncan, sensational young professional who hails from Lacy, Tenn., broke 100 clay birds in succession. Duncan was shooting in a squad composed of E. F. Woodward, John Day and Harley Woodward, all local shots, and M. C. Tiver of Clarksdale, Miss., when he set up this record for the Sunny South shooters to shoot at.

Mark Arie, of Campaign, Ill., former amateur champ and E. F. Woodward, Houston, showed up well in the practice, each breaking 99 targets.

Teaching Russian Children Atheism

PARIS, April 11.—Hundreds of thousands of Russian children are being taught atheism, the Grand Duke Alexander declares in an appeal published here today. The Grand Duke asks moral aid of Christian peoples for the Russian people in a fight against the "tyrannous Bolshevik Government's war against religion—aimed to poison humanity."

Turks Create Serious International Situation

Woman Mistaken For Burglar By Husband Shot In The Heart

QUINLAN, Texas, April 11.—A woman, Mrs. J. F. Ryan, wife of a prominent farmer near here, was shot through the heart at her home last night when her husband mistook her for a burglar. It was reported to local authorities. Ryan had been working through an alleged attempt of his youthful daughter to elope, and being suddenly aroused from sleep, shot his wife, who had gone to a back room of the house, and whom he believed was an outsider, according to the authorities.

Russia Wants Peace But Is Preparing For Possible War

By JOHN GRAUDENZ (United Press Staff Correspondent)

MOSCOW, April 11.—Russia, desiring peace as much as any nation, is strengthening her army, navy and air force against the eventuality of new war, according to Leon Trotsky, war minister.

Replying to a question in an assembly party meeting regarding the possibility of such new war, Trotsky said:

"We avoid war as much as possible. Proof of that fact is that we have called for a disarmament conference and decided the size of our army. However, the possibility of war was not excluded, and one of our first tasks at present is to strengthen the army and navy and air forces."

A fire alarm Tuesday morning called the department to the home of R. M. Hamilton on East Rusk street, where an oil stove had caused a small blaze, but the damage was light.

Another Crazy Dancing Couple

CLEVELAND, Ohio, April 11.—After 22 hours' continuous dancing, Miss Helene Mayer and Robert Williams were going strong early today. They are out to break the 54-hour record of Miss Alma Cummings established in New York Monday.

They started dancing at 9:30 a. m. Tuesday.

SALESMEN SELL CITY OF MEXIA TO MEMBERS OF THE GUSHER SQUAD

The largest attendance in the history of the Salesmanship Club since its organization the first of the year, marked today's luncheon hour. The presence of Leah Baird, distinguished movie star, and the Gusher baseball squad, headed by Manager Hub Northern in whose honor the meeting was held, contributed to the success of the day. A splendid program was held and the Salesmanship club sold Mexia to the new citizens of the baseball park—without a question. They know Mexia fans are with them.

KOREAN WILL SPEAK HERE IN A FEW DAYS

The ladies of the Missionary Society of the First Methodist Church will have an open meeting at the Church next Monday afternoon, April 16th, at two o'clock. Invitations have been extended to the ladies' societies of the different churches to attend this meeting. Mr. J. O. Kim will talk on "Domestic Worship and the Influence of Christianity in Korea." Mr. Kim is a native of Korea. He and three other Korean young men were brought to this country three years ago to be educated in the American colleges and universities. Mr. Kim is studying at Southern Methodist University. When they have obtained their degrees they will go back to Korea as missionaries to their own people. It was the privilege of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Landrum to meet Mr. Kim and they are instrumental in having him come to Mexia and speak to the public.

On Sunday evening, April 15th, Mr. Kim will talk to a union meeting of the young peoples' societies of the different churches in Mexia. This meeting will be held at the First Christian Church, and will begin promptly at 6:45 o'clock. Mr. Kim will sing some of the Korean songs at each of these meetings. The public is cordially invited to attend both these meetings.

Three Insane Men Who Escaped Are Again Captured

MATTEWAN, N. Y., April 11.—Three of four criminally insane convicts who escaped from Matteawan were captured this afternoon south of Menia, N. Y. Two were shot before they were taken. The fourth convict is surrounded in a clump of bushes near where the three were captured.

Ratification Of Chester Concessions Places U.S. In A Delicate Position

By A. L. BRADFORD (United Press Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, April 11.—A serious international situation has been created by the action of the Turkish Nationalist Parliament at Angora in ratifying the so-called Chester concession for a vast development and exploitation of Turkish and former Turkish territory, observers in Washington were convinced today.

Great Britain is certain to contest the Chester concession according to information in well posted quarters here as the plan strikes squarely at vast British interests in the Near East, that the London Government is consistently fighting to maintain.

Not alone does the ratification of the Chester concession mean that it will be fought by Great Britain but this action at Angora causes a serious clash of interests between two American groups over a prize which probably constitutes one of the great development enterprises ever planned.

Finally, the United States Government itself is thrown into a delicate position, because the rival plans of two great American groups studying the development scheme, one of which is backed by Great Britain and because of circumstances which, it is believed, may make it difficult for this Government to give support to the Chester concession.

Briefly this is the Chester concession: 1. A vast system of railroads—hundreds of miles of them—to be constructed throughout Eastern Anatolia.

2. The rights to the oil and other mineral development are granted in the territory stretching for twenty kilometers on each side of these railroads. There are similar water-power grants.

3. Two ports are to be constructed, on the Black Sea at Samsun and the other on the Mediterranean at Yumurtalik.

Even the construction of a great, modern city at Angora, as the new capital of Turkey, is planned.

Oil is at the bottom of this question, as it is found behind so many international questions today. Although this is admitted to be only a phase of the Chester concession, Mosul oil is the key to the present situation.

But Mosul and the territory near it, where, official reports state, rich oil is literally oozing up from the soil, are in the State of Iraq, the British claim, though the Turks deny it.

Great Britain holds the mandate over Mesopotamia, or technically, the State of Iraq.

Therefore, the Turkish Nationalist Government has granted a concession in a territory over which it exercises no control.

The conflict between two great American groups comes in that there exists a tacit agreement between the great oil companies of Great Britain and America that the American companies shall have an important share in the development of Mosul oil with Great Britain and France.

CONFLICTING REPORTS ARE NOW CURRENT

DUBLIN, April 11.—De Valera, a prisoner of the Free State, "phantom rebel" who has been captured and kept up an incessant warfare against the Free State, its establishment, was taken by Clonmel.

National troops pursued De Valera and Dan Breen, another irreconcilable chief, throughout the night. They were captured. The capture dispelled the last outstanding insurrection, with the possible exception of Countess Mariewicz, who has been an ardent and influential rebel.

The execution of De Valera in the event of his capture has been predicted.

LONDON, April 11, 4 P. M.—The Exchange Telegraph's Dublin correspondent says official quarters state that the report of De Valera's capture is false.

Dublin dispatch announcing the capture came through London at 3:10, a few minutes before the above cable.

DUBLIN, April 11.—The capture of De Valera is reported throughout Southern Ireland, but military authorities of the Free State later denied that he had been taken.

The account of the capture of De Valera and Lieut. Dan Breen, the fearless rebel military characters, who fled together from Clonmel after a brush in which Lynch was mortally wounded, was at first generally accepted as true in Dublin today.

DUBLIN, April 11.—Eamon De Valera, the Countess Mariewicz, Dan Breen and a handful of the last few outstanding Irish rebel leaders, were hunted furiously by Free State troops today.

Carrying with them the last spark of "republican rebellion," these irreconcilables (Continued on Page Four)

Art And Uplift In Movies "Bunk" So Says Leah Baird Screen Star Writer And Producer Now In City

All this talk about Art and Uplift in the movies.

All this revolt against the crass corporations, which "torture the soul of an artist" and drive stars to break away from the Trust and produce pictures independently!

Its most bunk says Leah Baird, screen writer and producer of her own pictures.

Mrs. Baird is in Mexia now, on this her second day, of her three days personal appearance at the National theater. At the Salesmanship Club today, where she was honor guest, she said that the object of her visit was to sell her personality. Breaking away as she has done from the "soulless corporation" through these personal visits she is meeting with a high degree of success.

If all the stars would so break away and go to producing high art pictures, about 95 per cent of the public would quit going to the movies. Miss Baird declares. Furthermore, 95 per cent of the stars would have to go to work something else.

Fighting the corporation is bad business, from the producer's and star's, she said.

"You produce a near-perfect picture; one you wouldn't be ashamed to show in the Metropolitan Museum of Art. Very well. Now, you've got to get your picture into the theaters, so that the public can see it and you can get back the modest hundreds of thousands you've invested.

"But the corporations control the bulk of the theaters and the best theaters, generally speaking. You've got to be content to show your celluloid masterpiece in second rate houses, at first. If the public demands your stuff, or you are popular enough, you will be able to exhibit, eventually, in corporation controlled theaters—on their terms, not yours.

Miss Baird knows what she is talking about, too. She has been engaged in her present profession for ten years and during the latter three she has been writing, acting in and producing her own pictures.

She points out that being married, she has the advantage over most stars and her husband "knows the ropes."

Miss Baird believes that Fairbanks and Pickford and many others known to the movie world, far and wide, would agree with her "coming down to brass tacks, that working outside the organized industry is a tremendous handicap. They and Chaplin are three special cases out of 10,000 screen actors who have pulling power enough to get away with independence."

"In speaking of her production 'Is Divorce a Failure?' in which she is now appearing here, she says:

"No, the picture doesn't answer its own question: is divorce a failure? That depends on the persons and circumstances in each divorce case.

"But it does point this moral that couples who think they can't stay married should try taking a vacation. Separate a while. They may discover that it's merely boredom with too much day-by-day life with each other."

"That's my own philosophy. I think the chief danger to married happiness is letting it get commonplace. When you're bored you go around with a chip on each shoulder. You quarrel over trifles.

"It's trifles that wreck happiness. Little picnic things that you can laugh off when you're not bored or tired.

"Money makes divorces, too. I believe wives should have separate allowances, of a certain amount—each week or month, except when the most abject poverty prevents it.

"A wife who has to ask her husband for every dollar she spends is likely to lose her taste for him when he says: 'What did you do with that five dollars I gave you last week?'

sons in the acting end of the motion picture industry there are just 100 divorcees on record? Of course you didn't. The happy homes never get on the front page of the newspapers; the divorcees do."

Miss Baird was born in Chicago, several years ago, she says. She is a brunette of the Juno type; tall and robust. She has none of the postures and poses of her haughty beauty, though she's handsome. Her brown eyes are beautiful, but she uses them for seeing and smiling, not for gymnastic purposes, off the screen.

She looks straight at you, like a man, and talks simply in a good Chicago voice without any frills.

Brought Husband and Pet Pekinese. Her husband Arthur F. Beck, looks like any business man whose shoes hurt him. Perhaps that is just his manner with reporters asking his wife impertinent questions. He cuts and titles and edits her pictures and attends to the distribution.

Miss Baird made her first appearance at the National Theater Monday afternoon. She arrived on the 3:55 train from Houston, was met at the station by Mayor Ernest Watson who tendered her the keys of the city and told her to select any oil well she wanted in the great forest of derricks. She graciously refused since she is interested in the production of silver sheets rather than golden fluids.

Large crowds, growing bigger daily, have gathered at the National Theater since that time. Her last appearance will be tonight when the four young ladies who have been selected by Miss Baird, because of their facial value on the screen, to participate in the contest which will then be decided by the audience.

Early this morning, following delegates to the Lions Convention at Waco, Lions W. K. Boyd, Sam Suravitz, W. C. Wilson, W. E. McKinney and Rex Forrest left in automobile

6 Irish Insurgents Are Executed Today

LONDON, April 11.—Six Irish insurgents were executed at Tiam this morning, according to Dublin dispatches.

ANOTHER MEXIA OIL COMPANY DECLARES AND PAYS DIVIDEND

The Womack-Smith Oil Company, Mr. B. S. Smith, president, which was organized in October 1922 is mailing checks to shareholders today for 100 per cent dividend. Each of the shareholders receives $1,335.00. This little company has some valuable royalty holdings in the Mexia field and acreage in Scurry county, and in South Texas. According to Mr. Smith this company is on velvet with 100 per cent in the pockets of its shareholders.

THE REUNION

A few of the boys from Mexia will be in New Orleans today. Many will recall the earnest plea sent out earlier, 61 to 65. I can almost hear the voice, see the heaving breast and the bright eyes beneath the patriotic soul as he made this plea: "Louisiana needs assistance. Northern foes invade her soil." We will show them firm resistance, side by side and hand in hand. So let the big guns roar as they will, we'll be gay and happy still. Gay and happy, ragged and dirty, we will be gay and happy still. May God bless all who assisted these old men, they will not forget to carry your names to the greatest Commander known of men.

Respectfully,
An Ex-Confederate.

AMBASSADOR HARVEY TO RETURN FROM ENGLAND TO MANAGE THE FIGHT FOR A WORLD TRIBUNAL

President Harding and Mr. Harvey together will map out and coordinate all administration activities in support of this policy, which is closer to Harding's heart than any other major policy of the administration at this time. Whether Harvey will return to his London post will depend on what happens after he gets here. He may remain to direct Harding's 1924 campaign.

New License Com. To Be Rushed by "Boxers In Bad"

BY HENRY L. FARRELL (United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, April 11.—All of the post: exiles who have been tied outside a watch the devouring of the boxing plums probably will make a rush for seats at the table now that Governor Smith has officially rebuked William Muldoon, chairman of the New York Commission.

The ac of the Governor is going back to the former method of regulating the sport license commission and a regulatory commission and in appointing a prominent lawyer to act with Muldoon on the former commission, undoubtedly was designed to iron hand of the "duke" has been shackled, a he will be in a position to do what, for the most part, has been many good things for boxing.

Johnny Kilbane, Johnny Wilson and other boxers who have been in bad with Muldoon no doubt will appeal to the new license commission for another permit to box in New York, and no doubt they will be restored to good grace.

But then comes the chance for the "duke" to step in, and he has outlined the manner in which he can still act against what he may consider as determinates to the sport.

If Wilson and Kilbane are granted licenses, and if the license commission approves of many of the bouts that have been banned by Muldoon, the "duke" says he can suspend them again and that it lies within the power of his section of the commission to act as arbiter as it has been in the past.

Man yef Muldoon's edicts in the past wouldn't stand the test of legal action and, since he will have with him now a prominent attorney, it is more than likely that the "duke" will be under more restraint than he has in the past.

Practically everyone in New York, outside of those who have big irons in the fire, believe Muldoon has done big things for boxing all over the United States and there is no general desire to see him shorn of his power.

The present arrangement by which Muldoon can be guided by legal council no doubt will prevent what few mistakes he has made in the past in WASHINGTON, April 11.—The population of the United States will be 110,693,502 on July 1 1923, according to an estimate today by Census Bureau statisticians.

Noted Health Experts Join In A National Crusade To Make Life Safe For Mothers and Children

COURTENAY DINWIDDIE

As officers of the American Child Health Association, Courtenay Dinwiddie and Dr. Thomas D. Wood are associated with Herbert Hoover, the president, in a great undertaking, the slogan of which is "To Save the Mother and Child." Mr. Dinwiddie is the general executive of the Association and Dr. Wood one of the three vice-presidents.

Both these officials are splendidly equipped for the task they have undertaken. Mr. Dinwiddie was connected from 1901 to 1907 with Bellevue and its allied hospitals of New York, where for three years he was active in developing social service and health bodies. He was superintendent of Public Welfare there and was responsible for its celebrated housing code.

From Duluth Mr. Dinwiddie went to Cincinnati. At first he was superintendent of the Anti-Tuberculosis League, but later fathered the Public Health Federation. He was also associated with a health experiment in the Blohawk-Brighton district, which established new standards and methods for the protection of the health of babies and younger children especially.

As executive secretary of the National Child Health Council, a group of six big organizations formed in 1929, he was prominently identified with the first steps taken in the coordination of National health activities, a movement which led directly to the recent annual meeting of the American Child Health Association.

Dr. Wood, long has been recognized as an authority on child health and has devoted much of his time to this work. He is college physician and professor of physical education at Teachers' College, Columbia University. As chairman of the joint committee of the American Medical Association and the National Education Association he has been especially active in developing standards for the health of school children.

The American Child Health Association has taken the "Children's Bill of Rights," drawn up by Mr. Hoover, as a declaration of its purposes.

The American Child Health Association's national headquarters is at 512 Seventeenth Street, Washington, D. C. Applications for membership may be made to the treasurer, Courtenay Dinwiddie, at that address.

Patterson's Column

Several friends and customers have been interested enough in this advertising column to inquire, and a few even to write in to know why the column was suspended.

One person even went so far as to say "she read every word in my column the minute she finished the editorial by Garland Adair."

This is indeed a compliment. To come any where near being as interesting as Adair's editorials is something any advertising writer might be proud of.

My column was suspended temporarily because I had expected to put on another style of advertising this month.

On account, however of not getting cuts ready I was compelled to be out of the city for ten days. I have, in company with others taken over the stock of J. A. Guthrie, bankrupt, at Hillsboro and go there today to start an auction sale and close up the business.

Another sale of a large stock at Houston will occupy most of my time until May 1st by which time I will be on the jewelry job strictly right here in Mexia.

Please remember that our repair shop is every day turning out remodeling jobs that make old style jewelry twice as valuable and beautiful.

Don't forget our Victrola department. We are selling more records so the distributor informs us than any town three times the size of Mexia—and the distributors ought to know. Big stock of Victor Red Seals as well as popular stuff. Also we are selling the splendid Columbia records.

Come in and hear your favorite. Thank you.

—Patterson.

STREET CLEANING

Claud King, manager of Cheever Brothers of this city, set a splendid example for others of the business district recently, when he took it upon himself to clean the pavement in the street in front of that establishment. About a half an hour was spent and at a cost of only a very small sum, in that period he improved the appearance of the street there by a large percent. Should others follow this plan, in thirty minutes, some morning all of the paving in the business district could be transformed, so that it would yield a full 100 per cent in efficiency and in attractiveness as well. The sidewalks in front of business houses are constantly showing improved appearances, as quite a number of firms have the brooms applied to them several times a day when necessary to keep them clean and looking their best. Such cooperation is helpful in many ways. The city coffers and the city officials should not be depended upon in every instance to attend to every thing. Of course, the care of the streets in Mexia, those paved and those unpaved as well, is an important item in civic affairs. It is expected that as soon as the aldermen and the block adjacent to the M. & T. C. station are paved the city will secure machines to keep the pavement swept and clean. In the meantime individual cooperation is insisted upon.

With all these delegations attending conventions, district, and state, why not launch a campaign to bring some of them to Mexia. Mexia has all the advantages necessary to take care of transients and the city is losing some very valuable advertising by not making some endeavor along these lines.

While Mexia is accomplishing so many wonderful things and while so many places are striving to secure the West Texas Technological College, it might be well to state that, for far, this city has not put in a bid for that institution.

We will well welcome a well on the Welch.

The Story of Baking Powder

In studying the romantic story of baking powder, this newspaper publishes in a series of two articles to give its readers, particularly its women readers, a short course in that branch of kitchen chemistry which involves the use of this ordinary ingredient. There are various kinds of baking powders. All have virtues, all have limitations. What are they? What is the exact function of baking powder? How may it be used successfully? How, occasionally, with respect to health. The answer to these and other questions, together with the narrative of the discovery and remarkable growth which have marked this industry, make of this column an account of absolutely interesting and worthwhile content. They are prepared on the authority of skilled chemists, and should be studied and passed on to the family cookbook.

Fishes from Mexico

(Fourth Article)

Many of the articles in this series on "The Story of Baking Powder" have brought out the interesting facts that there are four kinds of baking powder on the market now, and that some are decidedly better than two, one of which is popularly known as the "cream of tartar" baking powder, and the other, so-called "alum" baking powder. The merits of these respective groups have been discussed, and in this article attention is turned to the history of the commercial evolution of this most necessary culinary ingredient.

This phase of the story is essentially a reflection of the times—the march and progress of the modern, the age-old rivalry between the young and the old. As one chemist says:

"It is impossible to go very far into the history of this very necessary kitchen article without describing some of the battles which we later-day chemists have fought, and fought successfully, against the old-fashioned chemists who still think that the old-fashioned cream of tartar baking powder is as good as the so-called alum baking powder."

To the impartial observer it appears this chemist is right. It may be difficult to believe, but it is true, nevertheless, that in the apparently prosaic manufacture of baking powder is contained one of the most dramatic and interesting, though at times sordid, stories that one could read.

The story is told in all its thrilling details in court records, in articles by such writers as Lincoln Steffens and Creasey Morrison. These stories tell how a large baking powder company attempted to drive out the independent manufacturers by means of attacks on alum and phosphate as ingredients of baking powder.

The records carry the story of indictments of big business men and of the expropriation of at least two men whose fortunes can be counted in the millions, but whose money cannot buy them the right again to live on the homelands without peril of facing those indictments. The records also carry documentary evidence of bribed legislators and bought and paid for state officials who, for sordid gold, for a time betrayed their trusts to poison the minds of the housewives against so-called alum baking powder.

The records also carry the story of malicious propaganda, which, falsely, said that phosphate was the element of birds and other animals, or that it was made from burned bones treated with oil and vitriol. This propaganda, described both alum and phosphate as "caustic mineral acids which were deleterious to health."

All this is almost unbelievable. Court records, however, and documentary evidence are available as an irrefutable proof.

And most amazing is the fact that the large baking powder concerns which disseminated all this misinformation proceeded, while the propaganda was distributed throughout the country, to manufacture and sell, under another firm name, alum baking powder.

In this connection it is of interest to note that the Federal Trade Commission recently proceeded against this company charging false and misleading advertising and misbranding of its products. This company, refusing to take the order of the Federal Trade Commission to desist from its unfair and misleading actions, appealed to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, demanding that the order against them be dismissed. The United States court upheld the commission's order which declared that the company's circulars, which warned the purchasing public against the use of phosphate baking powders and claimed that cream of tartar was the only healthful acid ingredient of baking powder, was not only an unfair business practice but that it was false and misleading and constituted misbranding of its goods.

THE EDITORIAL OF THE DAY

MEXIA'S SPLENDID RECORD

The following, clipping from the Stewart's Special, a financial magazine published in Kansas City and which has a wide range of circulation may be of interest to citizens of Mexia.

From Ben F. Stillman, Secretary of the Mexia, (Tex.) Chamber of Commerce, who says: "Business conditions in Mexia, Texas, are good. The oil fields adjacent to the city of Mexia are producing approximately 60,000 barrels of oil per day, which is selling at $2.50 per barrel. Very good crops of cotton, corn and wheat, soybeans and such were raised in 1933 with splendid prospects for 1934. The town, which has grown from 3,000 to 10,000 population since 1920, is being paved, the business district already covered with a pavement. Ten miles of this paving will be laid. A complete system of storm and sanitary sewers, water and gas systems have been completed within the last twelve months. $250,000 is being spent for additional school facilities and an equal amount has been spent for churches and business buildings and residences of substantial character have been completed or are in the course of construction on every hand. The Chamber of Commerce raised by private subscriptions the amount of $80,000 during December, which is exclusive of the lot already owned, out of which a Y. M. C. A. building will be constructed. A public library is fast being completed. The most recent exploit of the Chamber of Commerce is the raising of $400,000 to build a cotton mill, construction of which will be begun soon after April 1st, and it is contemplated that this project will be completed in January, 1934. It is a remarkable fact that this amount was raised to build the cotton mill without a single penny being spent for promotion fees, and the Industrial Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, of which J. K. Hughes is chairman, deserve a vast amount of praise for their efficient work."

There came a time when a few ambitious men hoped to bridge the gap from a clerkship to official position. They first organized clubs to study in their own hands the theory and practice of banking. Then those who had a larger vision began to invite clerks from other banks to sit in the study clubs. Soon the study club became a community club.

Twenty-two years ago, three hundred of these men met in Cleveland. At that time there were just three chairs of commerce and banking in the universities of the United States. These men did not know where to turn for instructors. Bank officers frequently volunteered to help them. Those three hundred have grown into a study club of 64,000 men and women today. It is now called the American Institute of Banking. The Institute is composed of the officers of banks and the clerks of banks. The line of demarcation has vanished. They are professional associates.

What has been accomplished in banking—this linking together of the interests of all those who are getting the livelihood from the same business—will solve the problem between capital and labor. That is the only way we can hope to do it. People deriving their income from one business must have a common purpose, not an antagonistic purpose. As they come to be professional brethren in the business, their troubles will be solved.

HOW THE GAP WAS BRIDGED

By J. H. PUELICHER,

President of the American Bankers Association.

We sometimes hear hopeless expressions expressed over the prospects of solving the problem of the relations between employer and employee. In at least one great business the way has been found. The same principle can be applied to solving it for others.

Twenty-five years ago bank clerks were not elevated to official positions. Usually a successful man in some line of endeavor, who had accumulated sufficient, purchased that little closing glory, a bank presidency, to wind up his career.

The bank clerk had to start as messenger with a very inefficient salary and was usually employed at twelve or fifteen years of age. He learned something about the problem of banking but very little about general theory. The president knew something about the theory of business but very little about banking. Consequently banks did not arrive at the degree of efficiency they have obtained in the last few years.

KIDDIES' SCHOOL SAVINGS GROW

Deposits Over Four Million Dollars in Few Months; Boys and Girls Own Balances of $14,000,000

Savings of pupils through school savings banking systems in the United States during the first part, ending January 31, of the present school year, totaled $4,436,000, according to reports compiled by the Savings Bank Division of the American Bankers Association. The total for the school year will be over $7,000,000 if the deposits continue at this rate, as compared with $200,000 and a half million dollars for the previous school year.

The number of pupils reported as participating in the school savings systems on January 31 was 1,584,144, as compared with 1,375,000 last year, 800,000 the previous year and 463,000 in the school year ending in 1930. In schools which have savings banking systems the proportion of enrollment which participates is tending to increase. Teachers and bankers who interest themselves in the movement make every effort to obtain a place for their systems on the honor roll published semi-annually by the American Bankers Association through its Savings Bank Division.

Savings Bazar, a Double

The reported bank balances owned by the pupils have more than doubled already in the current school year, January 31 showing $14,000,000 as compared with $6,382,000 on June 30, 1933, and $4,434,000 on June 30, 1932. While the increased balances reflect improvement in industrial conditions, it is probable that part of the increase is statistical, due to improved accounting methods.

An important feature of school savings banking, on which no statistics can be obtained, is the extent to which the teachers are inculcating thrift in money matters and the advantage of saving systematically a part of all income. This is the basic purpose of school savings banking, the collection of deposits being deemed as only an item in the broad program of thrift education in the schools. The National Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher Associations is on record as giving "unqualified assistance to the establishment of thrift instruction as a regular part of the curriculum of the schools of our country."

DE VALERA ... F. ... men fled from a net firing around a meeting at Clonmel where a bloody chase ended in the capture of Liam Lynch rebel chieftain. Lynch died of wounds last night.

De Valera and the Countess narrowly escaped. Free State troops picked up the trail and were close behind their quarry this morning. The rebel leaders are thought to have fled to an insurgent nest in the mountains, where it may take months to hunt them down. The Government, believing he end of the insurrection is in sight, has ordered that the pursuit be pushed to a finish.

A dramatic end to De Valera's fight against the Free State and more than likely to his life at the same time is looked for by Government officials within a fortnight. They declare that now is the time to throw every resource into pursuit of the rebel "president" before he has an opportunity to organize new irregular armies and renew his guerrilla warfare.

The Countess MacDonewick is regarded as an even more dangerous rebel for she is more active in a military way than De Valera, and even more fearless.

On account of other affairs coming on the same date the Elks announce that the date of their yearly anniversary celebration is extended from May 11 to 18, one week later. This will in no way conflict with their plans for a real celebration upon this date and from "inside" information it will be a day long to be remembered by members.

"WORSE THAN PAIN"

Louisiana Lady Says She Has "Worse or Found Anything Better Than Cardui for a Run-Down Condition."

Morgan City, La.—"It would be hard for me to tell how much benefit I have derived from the use of Cardui," said Mrs. I. G. Bowman, of 1319 Front Street, this city.

"I was so run-down in health I could hardly go. I was thin, I had no appetite. Could not rest or sleep well. I was so weak, and so very nervous, I was no pleasure to myself.

"I suffered some pain, but the worst of my trouble was from being so weak and easy to get tired and out of heart.

"This nervous condition was worse than pain.

"Some one told me of Cardui, and I decided to use it.

"After using a few bottles, I regained my strength. I wasn't so nervous, and began to eat and sleep, and grew stronger and was soon well.

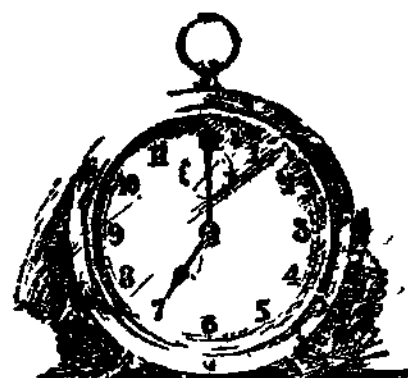

"I have never found anything better for a run-down condition."

If you suffer from this Louisiana lady did, you, too, should find Cardui helpful for your troubles.

Quick Quaker Oats

Cook to perfection in 3 to 5 minutes

You Can Sleep

Longer now, if you wish

Quaker Oats now comes in two styles, identical in quality and flavor.

Our experts have perfected Quick Quaker Oats—the quickest cooking oats in the world. It cooks in from 3 to 5 minutes, and it cooks to perfection.

Now your oat dish can be ready, if you wish, before the eggs or coffee.

Now two great supremacies

Now Quaker Oats in two ways excel any other oats in existence. Long ago, the flavor won the world. It has made Quaker Oats the dominant—and wherever oats lovers live.

Quaker is flaked from queen grains only—just the rich, plump, flavorful oats. We get but ten pounds from a bushel, but those ten pounds are the finest oats that people ever get.

Now comes quick cooking. Quick Quaker is flaked from the same queen grains. But the oats are cut before flaking. They are rolled very thin and are partly cooked. So the flakes are smaller and thinner—that is all. And those small, thin flakes cook quickly.

If you want exquisite flavor you must get Quaker Oats. If you want five-minute cooking you must get them. Get either or both, as you like. But get Quaker always if you want this dish delightful.

STRENGTH AND SAFETY IN THE BODY OF STEEL

If you could see the main body structure of Dodge Brothers Business Coupe before the enamel is baked on, and before the interior is furnished, you would be profoundly impressed by its strength.

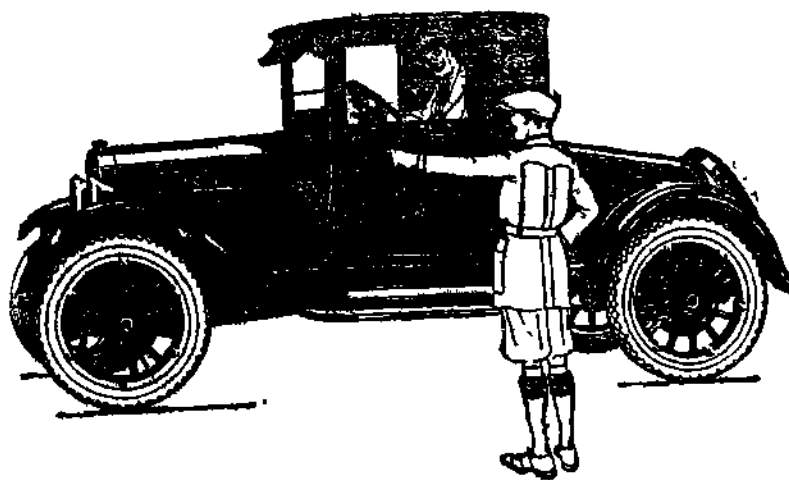

You would see that every panel, every pillar, and every rib is steel—that even the door sills and window moldings are steel.

You would see that all of these parts and sections are electrically welded together into one staunch steel body, with no bolts or rivets to work loose, nothing to rattle or squeak or warp.

And you would realize that, like the all-steel Pullman coach, this unique construction—originated by Dodge Brothers for this car—represents the last word in protection to passengers—the ultimate achievement in closed car sturdiness.

Gushers Meet Busters Here Thursday

Last Game Here Previous To Opening Of League

BY HECK

Business is picking up at the local ball yard and manager Northern announces the final match of spring training games which are as follows: April 12, Corsicana at Mexia; April 14-15, Mexia vs. San Antonio, at San Antonio; April 17, Mexia at Corsicana. These games will wind up the spring training games prior to the opening of the season April 19 with Mexia at Marlin.

Manager Northern announces the purchase of catcher McLain from the Ft. Worth Club and the Zeb Howell will report the 12th all set for the fray and in these two the Gushers have two fast, peppy and great fielding players. You fans know what Zeb Howell can do, but all the same he will have to stop some to horn in on the infield that we have on hand now.

McLain is a sweet catcher and the Fort Worth papers have boosted him highly but there was no chance for him to break the Possum Moore-Homer Hanworth combination of the Panthers and also he will have been competing with Blum who has did all the catching for the Gushers to date and he is a hard working receiver and looks good in all departments. To me it looks like Mexia has a splendid club on hand and with the two additions named above I cannot help but feel that the Gushers will be in the fight for the rag from the very first. Of course we will lose games, perhaps many of them as all clubs do, but on the seasons play I look for Hub Northern to lead us to the flag pole. The Gushers are strong in every department and will get better as the season advances as they should do and I know many of you fans have been impatient for the club to "show something" but Northern is too wise at the game to allow his club to condition too quickly and has rounded out the training season slowly and with but one purpose in view—to just reach the proper condition on the date the season opens and that is just what he has did. The club will improve in hitting and fielding as the season grows and the main idea of the training new is to get the players that are physically fit. Carl Hill gave me the best definition for this when a fan asked him why he did so much running, jumping and other gymnastic stunts instead of pitching several hours a day and Carl replied "There is but one success to a ball player in the spring and that is to get himself physically fit first and if a player will develop his wind, work off the surplus weight, and get his legs and body in perfect physical condition, he can go out there and play his position as it should be played and the fielding and hitting will naturally follow a player who is in perfect condition. And you will see me doing this a long time before I ever pitch a ball." And that is just what he did. I am not going to rave over the Gushers as some other writers are doing their clubs but I am firm in my opinion that Mexia has the goods and will be in on the flag question. I will do my raving when the ravings are due—and believe me I am some little raver.

Athletic Event By Nowlin Post Is Being Planned

The Executive Committee of the American Legion met Tuesday night with Post Commander Owen F. Watkins and arrangements were made to hold an athletic event at the Hope Theatre on East Commerce street Thursday night, April 19.

The first details will be worked out and explained at the meeting of the Nowlin Post at the regular weekly meeting tomorrow night.

Every member is urged to be present at the meeting and cooperate in the entertainment that is being planned.

Commander Watkins assures the public that this event will be strictly under the supervision of the Nowlin Post and that the public will be given good clean sport of a high order and of much interest.

There will be an advance ticket sale and the entire citizenship and public are cordially invited.

The Hope Theatre is the open air theater on East Commerce in the business district. A stage will be built and the seating capacity of the place is estimated into the several hundred. It is expected to be taxed to accommodate the crowd that will likely attend.

Turney and Ellisor Win Friday's Shoot

At the Mexia Gun Club shoot last Friday there was lots of interest shown during the afternoon, when everyone competed in the prize winning events of the afternoon. There were six prizes given away, two to each squad. The first prize was awarded to the highest scores, then a booby prize to the lowest. E. B. Turney and Doc Ellisor carried first honors and J. W. Anderson, W. B. Hendon, and L. J. Ingram received the low prize.

The public is cordially invited to take part in the shoot and the club is open for memberships. The shoots are held on Tuesdays and Fridays of each week, beginning at 4:30 p. m. on the Freeman addition tract on South Ross Avenue. All ladies and all men, 50 years of age or over, are entitled to honorary membership.

SPORTLIGHTS

Catcher Mills received his release Monday. The little fellow looked pretty good but had no chance with Blum on the job and McLain, the catcher we bought from Fort Worth.

This fellow, McLain who has trained all spring with Jake Atz and his Panthers is touted as a coming star and he came to Fort Worth from his home in Illinois on his own expense to train with the Panther crew. The dope is that he is not only a great throwing catcher but is a regular dynamo of pep behind the plate.

McLain is also in the rookie class and is playing his first year of professional ball which makes him all the more valuable to the Gusher club.

Conyers a right handed pitcher reported to Hub Tuesday and began training. Conyers was due long ago but illness has held him back. Conyers and Left Hawk, who will not report for at least a month on account of a broken finger or something, are the only two players who have not reported of the original list.

If Lefty Hawk does not report he will find the going mighty tough now as our present staff is showing extra good and Hub is due to have a strong pitching staff.

Zeb Howell will report the 12th and then there will be some tall hustling among the infield candidates. Howell is a might sweet fielder and

"THE OLD RELIABLE"

Ancient philosophers, and even some moderns, have pictured Opportunity as an old man, declining in years. They believed and taught that Opportunity passed but once in a lifetime and must be seized at once or forever lost.

Today we know better. Opportunity is youth and stands at every man's door, year in and year out, during a great part of his lifetime, urging you to leave the crowded quarters in the congested district, with its grime and noise and lack of fresh air, holding out to you the prospect of a beautiful home, surrounded by well-kept grounds, skirted by broad boulevards, where you and your wife and little ones can really live and grow and develop and gain happiness and success.

Now is the time to build—or buy—that home of your own. We offer you building materials of the highest quality at reasonable prices. We are ready to assist you in choosing plans, from a thousand designs in our "Photographic Plan Service."

Grain Production May Be Normal Says Lyman West

CHICAGO, April 10.—America's grain production this year may still be normal despite a late planting season, drought, labor shortage and other handicaps.

The situation is not yet serious, in the opinion of the best informed sources in Chicago, the country's agricultural capital. Lyman West, statistician for the Chicago Board of Trade, and noted authority, declared there is yet plenty of time for spring wheat planting and for winter wheat to develop.

West regards the bullishness of the market and pessimistic reports from the various quarters as the usual "seasonal weather scare." He called attention to the fact that reports of drought from the Southwest, late winters from the Northwest—the spring wheat section—and chinch and grown bug scares from Indiana, Illinois, Oklahoma and Texas are usual events.

The Chicago statistician gave the visible supply of American wheat at 2,355,000 bushels today as compared with 2,455,000 bushels last year. The invisible supply, he said, may bring the total this year down to a little less than last. Experts also pointed out that the Government's estimate of winter wheat production is 572,317,000 bushels, only a little less than last year and more than the average.

Along with reports of drought and late winter in the wheat belt came more significant reports that farmers are planning to reduce acreage of spring wheat in the Northwest because of the low price which has steadily fallen for the last three years. W. H. Moorehouse, director of research for the American Farm Bureau, said he had received such reports from officials of the Northwestern wheat growers and individual farmers.

"I am not in the least bullish on wheat prices," said West. "There is yet plenty of time for a crop and I can foresee no shortage."

West, in pointing out that the storage supply is near normal, declared also that there is 9,844,000 bushels of Canadian wheat in the United States against 3,999,000 last year.

Most experts said the labor situation was admittedly bad, but added that it would fit in well with plans of farmers to attempt a diversification of crops.

LEAH BAIRD FILM SHOWS HOW DIVORCE IS FAILURE

In the Associated Exhibitors picture, "Is Divorce a Failure?" by and with Leah Baird, there is presented the interesting story of a man who finds his previous wife hesitating to marry the man for whom she divorced her husband and decides to take a chance on winning her back. This should prove interesting. If the man can win back his divorced wife, then divorce, instead of marriage is a failure! If the man who stole her affections from her husband continues to hold her, marriage may again prove a failure and lead her again to the divorce court!

The National Theater announces "Is Divorce a Failure?" as the main attraction on their program for today. Miss Baird adapted it from the stage play "All Mine," by Dorian Neve and it is said to be the biggest picture produced by Arthur F. Bock. Not only has it the usual strong dramatic plot that has heretofore characterized Miss Baird's photoplays, but it has been given a spectacular production, thrills being provided by a shipwreck, a fight with a man-eating shark, a volcanic eruption, a typhoon and a tornado.

"IS DIVORCE A FAILURE?" IS LEAH BAIRD'S GREATEST

In "Is Divorce a Failure?" the Associated Exhibitors feature now playing at the National Theater and remaining until Wednesday Miss Leah Baird again proves that she is an actress of great emotional talent and beauty. Her picture always have two elements which insure popularity—handsome and varied setting and a story of strong emotional appeal. "Is Divorce a Failure?" has even greater eye, mind and heart appeal than her preceding pictures. Most of the action transpires on a desert island that is guarded by a volcano. This erupts with perfect realism. Other spectacular thrills are provided by a typhoon, a shark fight and a shipwreck.

Victims of Krupp Killings Buried In Essen, Germ.

BY CARL D. GROAT

(United Press Staff Correspondent)
BERLIN, April 10.—Germany today buried the thirteen workmen shot down by French troops at the Krupp works at Essen, according to the victims all honored as though they had fallen on the field of battle.

Bells tolled throughout the Republic, from the Rhine to East Prussia and from Lake Constance to the North Sea, at the moment when a quiet procession, with thirteen odd, open-faced hearses containing pentagonal caskets wended through the streets of Essen.

Mourners in frock coats and top hats followed the caskets through the hushed streets of the Ruhr city, while thousands of workers, overalls stained with rust and coal, halted their work for an hour in tribute to the dead.

In Berlin, the Reichstag chamber was draped with crepe and decorated with laurel. Chancellor Cuno, President Ebert and leaders of all parties assembled at 10 o'clock for services made up largely of speeches of regret at "French bitterness."

The workmen for whom the Nation mourned were shot down with machine guns at the Krupp works after efforts of a French patrol to requisition automobiles had been resisted. In his speech Chancellor Cuno expressed readiness to enter free negotiations based upon reparations possible of fulfillment.

"Until our opponents are willing to negotiate on this basis," he declared, "passive resistance must continue." "In the name of the dead we ask the nations of the world how long it will be until the end of this insane mistreatment of the Ruhr," Cuno continued.

"We Germans have constantly sought an understanding. We have offered France securities, she has not accepted them."

"Even when the enemy stood within our borders we proved our desire for understanding by appropriating as our own the proposals of the American Secretary of State."

"Today, at the graveside of our dead we still are ready to enter free negotiations leading to an understanding."

"However, sacrifices are vain if peace and freedom are not secured. Reparations must not be brought to a measure where they cannot be fulfilled."

"No arrangement will be reached which fails to give the Ruhr and Rhine land freedom. As long as our oppoent is not ready for this, our passive resistance must continue."

The Chancellor appealed for solidarity.

"In this battle there must be no parties. Single will must unite us. 'Act as though upon the outcome of your behavior depended the fate of Germany.'"

Bridgegroom of Three Months Killed by Bomb

CHICAGO, April 10.—Stanley King, bridegroom of a few months, was killed in one of a series of three bomb explosions which damaged or wrecked as many buildings and rocked surrounding neighborhoods here last night and early today.

Although the explosions closely followed three declared to have been set by opponents of the Ku Klux Klan, police, after a preliminary investigation, announced belief that they were the work of "black hand" terrorists. Italians owned or were occupants of all the places bombed.

At Flourney street and Francisco avenue, where King was killed, a bomb was hurled from a passing auto; falling short of an apartment building and hitting the curb. A hole was torn in the street.

King, returning from the Maymarket Theatre, where he was employed, was dispirited as he was about to enter his home.

As police arrived Mrs. King, the victim's bride, ran to the street crying:

"I knew it!" She collapsed and became unconscious. Police were unable to question her to find out what she was taking about. A few minutes afterwards another bomb damaged a building on North Keystone avenue and three hours later a third wrecked a market owned by Vito Buccalo on West Division street.

Manano Zongora, owner of the apartment in front of which King was killed, told police he had no enemies. John Tolera, owner of the

A COMING RAILROAD MAN

"Augh—waugh—gr-r-r!" I was the baby, and he had made similar remarks steadily for the last hour. Mr. Appol's hair—what was left of it—stood on end.

"Gnow—ahwb—wombdony. Igbour-r-r!" remarked the baby lustily, while the people living across the way rose from their beds and closed the windows ostentatiously.

Mr. Appol ground his teeth. "To think," he murmured wearily, "that I should have lived to become the father of a train announcer!"—Arkansas Utility News.

A COMING RAILROAD MAN

"Augh—waugh—gr-r-r!" I was the baby, and he had made similar remarks steadily for the last hour. Mr. Appel's hair—what was left of it—stood on end.

"Gnow—ahw—wombdgon fibgour-r-r!" remarked the baby lustily, while the people living across the way rose from their beds and closed the windows ostentatiously.

Mr. Appel ground his teeth. "To think," he murmured wearily, "that I should have lived to become the father of a train announcer."—Arkansas Utility News.

SPORTLIGHTS

Now wouldn't that jar your pre-service? McKinney has replaced Taylor in the Texas Association. I wish some of you fans would look me up and let me know just who is who in this league and also let me know why Deak Roberts left McKinney out of the schedule. When did Taylor get in the league, anyhow? I am sure all mixed up or else the Board of Arbitration is all floozy and skitkaborious.

Just so they don't mess around and put us in the Pacific Coast league before someone stops 'em. It sure would be a long jump from here to Seattle and then jump back for a Sunday game.

"Expert says Heredity is big factor in Golf" says the headlines in the big papers. They tell me that coal oil will cure that every time but I can't say for sure as I never had the Heredity but I imagine that it is something like dandruff or something. I hope it aint catching outside of golf players. It sure would ruin a ball club.

In spite of the fact that Secretary
Gayle sent out the official schedule several days ahead of time with instructions to not publish same until April 8 the Corsicana Sun ran it the 7th and the Austin American a week sooner. Why they did this I can't
written across the schedule in box car letters.

I got some good stuff for you fans in the near future so watch for it and then tell me what you think of it.

It's a secret now but you will be let in on it pronto.

A friend of mine said in the Chocolate Shop the other day that he liked the stuff Clover put out in the sport columns but this guy "By Heck" sure was rotten and he couldn't understand why Clover let that bird mess up his sport page. Alright, Cartwright, I'll see that you get your wish. I don't think much of him myself.

Jinx Tucker of the Waco News-Tribune refers to the Waco Indians as the probably pennant winners of the
T. A. League. That suits us over here
Jinx, but I think you have your wires crossed and you have a "short" in your ignition, but keep on boosting the home town club. That is what we are all doing.

At noon today Hub and his whole gang were dined by the Salesmanship Club but as yet I have not learned the actual casualty list, but with Claude Bryan, Socks Slaughter, Carl Hill, Old Eagle Pass and Dad Har-kins all eating at the same time and in the same room there is bound to be some serious disturbance.

I also noticed that the Texas cafe had just had their new silver knives sharpened and now I am afraid to look the gang in the face. Someone is sure to be cut up something fierce.

Manager Grubb is using Clopp Craig and Sengotta in the outfield, and believe me they are a clever set of fly hawks. On the infield he is using Bob Speegle at first, Malmquist at second Sain at short and himself at third, which should measure up with the best infields in the league. Lacy and Siemer are doing the catching, the latter being left there by the Omaha Edgar seem to be the main cogs in club. Captrell, Argueta, Rosehaur, and the pitching end and all are good.

According to the dope Bob Speegle is setting 'em afire with his first base stuff at Gimboville. I am sure glad that Harvey has a good club. He will need it when he plays the Gushers.

Hurrah, look at this:
Auburn, N. Y. April 9.—The Board of Arbitration of the National Association Baseball leagues, announced the following changes in the minor leagues.

Territory of Sherman and Corsicana transferred to the Texas Association. McKinney, Texas has replaced
Taylor in the Texas Association.

RED PEPPER HEAT STOPS BACKACHE

The heat of red peppers takes the "ouch" from a sore, lame back. It can not hurt you, and it certainly ends the torture at once.

When you are suffering so you can hardly get around, just try Red Pepper Rub, and you will have the quickest relief known. Nothing has such concentrated, penetrating heat as red peppers.

Just as soon as you apply Red Pepper Rub you will feel the tingling heat.
In three minutes it warms the sore spot through and through. Pain and soreness are gone.

Ask any druggist for a jar of Rowles Red Pepper Rub. Be sure to get the genuine with the name of Rowles on each package. (Adv.)

Mexians Go to Waco Convention Today

Delegates selected to attend the Fifth Annual District Convention of Lions Clubs at Waco left Mexia by automobile early Wednesday morning to be in attendance at the one-day session when it opened at nine o'clock.

Besides the five delegates, J. I. Rid-die, J. K. Hughes, John H. Sweatt, F.
W. Welch, and G. W. Perkins, about 15 members were preparing to join the delegation in attendance, but the rain early this morning prevented.

The program Friday is in charge of E. L. Smith, who has arranged for entertainment and speeches, as well as a detailed report from the delegates who visited the Waco Convention. Another record attendance is expected at the luncheon Friday.

The Tally

It isn't the job we intended to do.
Or the labor we've just begun,
That puts us right on the ledger sheet,
It's the work we have really done.

Our credit is built upon things we do.
Our debit on things we shirk;
The man who totals the biggest plus
Is the man who completes his work.

Good intentions do not pay bills;
It's easy enough to plan.
To wish is the play of an office boy;
To do is the job of a man.

DE VALERA PHANTOM REBEL REPORTED CAUGHT

Trapshooters Face Heavy Houston Rains

HOUSTON, April 11.—Heavy rain greeted trap shooters from all parts of the country who were here today to attend the annual Sunny South shoot which was scheduled to start at 9 a. m.

Two hundred targets a day is the program for Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, followed by the Sunny South preliminary Saturday.

Tuesday the visiting gunners spent the afternoon at the traps learning the locations of the traps and the vagaries of the wind. A north wind will shoot the targets up while a south wind keep them low.

In a trial shoot yesterday Boyd Duncan, sensational young professional who hails from Lucy, Tenn., broke 100 clay birds in succession. Duncan was shooting in a squad composed of E. F. Woodward, John Day and Harley Woodward, all local shots, and M. C. Tyler of Clarksdale, Miss., when he set up this record for the Sunny South contenders to shoot at.

Mark Arie, of Campaign, Ill., former amateur champ and E. F. Woodward, Houston, showed up well in the practice, each breaking 99 targets.

Teaching Russian Children Atheism

PARIS, April 11.—Hundreds of thousands of Russian children are being taught atheism, the Grand Duke Alexander declares in an appeal published here today. The Grand Duke asks moral aid of Christian peoples for the Russian people in a fight against the "tyrannous Bolshevik Government's war against religion—aimed to poison humanity."

Woman Mistaken For Burglar By Husband Shot In The Heart

QUINLAN, Texas, April 11.—Mrs. J. F. Ryan, wife of a prominent farmer near here, was shot through the heart at her home last night when her husband mistook her for a burglar, it was reported to local authorities. Ryan had been worried through an alleged attempt of his youthful daughter to elope, and being suddenly aroused from sleep, shot his wife, who had gone to a back room of the house, and whom he believed was an outsider, according to the authorities.

Russian Wants Peace But Is Preparing For Possible War

By JOHN GRAUDENZ

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

MOSCOW, April 11.—Russia, desiring peace as much as any nation, is strengthening her army, navy and air force against the eventuality of new war, according to Leon Trotsky, war minister.

Replying to a question in an assembly partly meeting regarding the possibility of such new war, Trotsky said: "We avoid war as much as possible."

"Proof of that fact is that we have called for a disarmament conference and decided the size of our army. However, the possibility of war was not excluded, and one of our first tasks at present is to strengthen the army and navy and air forces."

A fire alarm Tuesday morning called the department to the home of R. M. Hamilton on East Rusk street, where an oil stove had caused a small blaze, but the damage was light.

Another Crazy Dancing Couple

CLEVELAND, Ohio, April 11.—After 22 hours' continuous dancing, Miss Helene Mayer and Robert Williams were going strong early today. They are out to break the 54-hour record of Miss Alma Cummings established in New York Monday. They started dancing at 9:30 a. m. Tuesday.

SALESMEN SELL CITY OF MEXIA TO MEMBERS OF THE GUSHER SQUAD

The largest attendance in the history of the Salesmanship Club since its organization in the first of the year, marked today's luncheon hour. The presence of Leah Baird, distinguished movie star, and the Gusher baseball squad, headed by Manager Hub Northern in whose honor the meeting was held, contributed to the success of the day. A splendid program was held and the Salesmanship club sold Mexia to the new citizens of the baseball park—without a question. They know Mexia fans are with them.

KOREAN WILL SPEAK HERE IN A FEW DAYS

The ladies of the Missionary Society of the First Methodist Church will have an open meeting at the Church next Monday afternoon, April 16th, at two o'clock. Invitations have been extended to the ladies' societies of the different churches to attend this meeting. Mr. J. O. Kim will talk on "Demon Worship and the Influence of Christianity in Korea." Mr. Kim is a native of Korea. He and three other Korean young men were brought to this country three years ago to be educated in the American colleges and universities. Mr. Kim is studying at Southern Methodist University. When they have obtained their degrees they will go back to Korea as missionaries to their own people. It was the privilege of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Landrum to meet Mr. Kim and they are instrumental in having him come to Mexia and speak to the public.

On Sunday evening, April 15th, Mr. Kim will talk to a union meeting of the young peoples' societies of the different churches in Mexia. This meeting will be held at the First Christian Church, and will begin promptly at 6:45 o'clock. Mr. Kim will sing some of the Korean songs at each of these meetings. The public is cordially invited to attend both these meetings.

ANOTHER MEXIA OIL COMPANY DECLARES AND PAYS DIVIDEND

The Womack-Smith Oil Company, Mr. B. S. Smith, president, which was organized in October 1922 is mailing checks to shareholders today for 100 per cent dividend. Each of the shareholders receives $1,335.00. This little company has some valuable royalty holdings in the Mexia field and acreage in Scurry county, and in South Texas. According to Mr. Smith this company is on velvet with 100 per cent in the pockets of its shareholders.

THE REUNION

A few of the boys from Mexia will be in New Orleans today. Many will recall the earnest plea sent out earlier, 61-to-65. I can almost hear the voice, see the heaving breast and the bright eyes beneath the patriotic soul as he made this plea: "Louisiana needs assistance. Northern foes invade her soil." We will show them firm resistance, side by side and hand in hand. So let the big guns roar as they will, we'll be gay and happy still. Gay and happy, ragged and dirty, we will be gay and happy still. May God bless all who assisted these old men, they will not forget to carry your names to the Greatest Commander known of men.

Ratification Of Chester Concessions Places U.S. In A Delicate Position

By A. L. BRADFORD

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, April 11.—A serious international situation has been created by the action of the Turkish Nationalist Parliament at Angora in ratifying the so-called Chester concession for a vast development and exploitation of Turkish and former Turkish territory, observers in Washington were convinced today.

Great Britain is certain to contest the Chester concession according to information in well posted quarters here as the plan strikes squarely at vast British interests in the Near East, that the London Government is consistently fighting to maintain.

Not alone does the ratification of the Chester concession mean that it will be fought by Great Britain but this action at Angora causes a serious clash of interests between two American groups over a prize which probably constitutes one of the great development enterprises ever planned.

Finally, the United States Government itself is thrown into a delicate position, because the rival plans of two great American groups studying the development scheme, one of which is backed by Great Britain and because of circumstances which, it is believed, may make it difficult for this Government to give support to the Chester concession.

Briefly this is the Chester concession:

1. A vast system of railroads—hundreds of miles of them—to be constructed throughout Eastern Anatolia.

2. The rights to the oil and other mineral development are granted in the territory stretching for twenty kilometers on each side of these railroads. There are similar water-power grants.

3. Two ports are to be constructed, on the Black Sea at Samsun and the other on the Mediterranean at Youmourtalik.

Even the construction of a great modern city at Angora, as the new capital of Turkey, is planned.

Oil is at the bottom of this question, as it is found behind so many international questions today. Although this is admitted to be only a phase of the Chester concession, Mosul oil is the key to the present situation.

But Mosul and the territory near it, where, official reports state, rich oil is literally oozing up from the soil, are in the State of Iraq, the British claim, though the Turks deny it.

Great Britain holds the mandate over Mesopotamia, or technically, the State of Iraq.

Therefore, the Turkish Nationalist Government has granted a concession in a territory over which it exercises no control.

The conflict between two great American groups comes in that there exists a tacit agreement between the great oil companies of Great Britain and America that the American companies shall have an important share in the development of Mosul oil with Great Britain and France.

CONFLICTING REPORTS ARE NOW CURRENT

DUBLIN, April 11.—De Valera, a prisoner of the Free State, "phantom rebel" who has been captured and kept up an incessant warfare against the Free State and its establishment, was taken to Clonmel.

National troops pursued De Valera and Dan Breen, another irregular chief, throughout the night. Both were captured. The capture disposed of the last outstanding insurgent leader, with the possible exception of Countess Marciwicz, who herself is an ardent and influential rebel. The execution of De Valera in the event of his capture has been predicted.

LONDON, April 11, 4 P. M.—The Exchange Telegraph's Dublin correspondent says official quarters state that the report of De Valera's capture is false. Dublin dispatch announcing his capture came through London at 3:40, a few minutes before the above cable.

DUBLIN, April 11.—The capture of De Valera is reported throughout Southern Ireland, but military authorities of the Free State later denied that he had been taken.

The account of the capture of De Valera and Lieut. Dan Breen, the fearless rebel military characters, who fled together from Clonmel after a brush in which Lynch was mortally wounded, was at first generally accepted as true in Dublin today.

DUBLIN, April 11.—Eamon De Valera, the Countess Marciwicz, Dan Breen and a handful of the last few outstanding Irish rebel leaders, were hunted furiously by Free State troops today. Carrying with them the last spark of "republican rebellion," these irregulars (Continued on Page Four)

Art And Uplift In Movies "Bunk" So Says Leah Baird Screen Star Writer And Producer Now In City

All this talk about Art and Uplift in the movies.

All this revolt against the crass corporations, which "throttle the soul of an artist" and drive stars to break away from the Trust and produce pictures independently!

Its most bunk says Leah Baird, screen writer and producer of her own pictures.

Miss Baird is in Mexia now, on this her second day, of her three days personal appearance at the National Theater. At the Salesmanship Club today, where she was honor guest, she stated that the object of her visit was to sell her personality. Breaking away as she has done from the "soulless corporation" through these personal visits she is meeting with a high degree of success.

If all the stars would so break away and go to producing high art pictures, about 95 per cent of the public would quit going to the movies, Miss Baird declares. Furthermore, 95 per cent of the stars would have to go to work on something else.

Fighting the corporation is bad business, from the producer's and star's, she adds.

"You produce a near-perfect picture; one you wouldn't be ashamed to show in the Metropolitan Museum of Art. Very well. Now, you've got to get your picture into the theaters, so that the public can see it and you can get back the modest hundreds of thousands you've invested."

"But the corporations control the bulk of the theaters and the best theaters, generally speaking. You've got to be content to show your celluloid masterpiece in second rate houses, at that. If the public demands your stuff, or you are popular enough, you will be able to exhibit, eventually, in corporation controlled theaters—on their terms, not yours."

Miss Baird knows what she is talking about, too. She has been engaged in her present profession for ten years and during the latter three she has been writing, acting in and producing her own pictures.

She points out that being married, she has the advantage over most stars and her husband "knows the ropes."

Miss Baird believes that Fairbanks and Pickford and many others known to the movie world, far and wide, would agree with her "coming down to brass tacks, that working outside the organized industry is a tremendous handicap. They and Chaplin are three special cases out of 10,000 screen actors who have pulling power enough to get away with independence."

"In speaking of her production 'Is Divorce a Failure?' in which she is now appearing here, she says:

"No, the picture doesn't answer its own question: is divorce a failure? That depends on the persons and circumstances in each divorce case."

"But it does point this moral that couples who think they can't stay married should try taking a vacation. Separate a while. They may discover that it's merely boredom with too much day-by-day life with each other."

"That's my own philosophy. I think the chief danger to married happiness is letting it get commonplace. When you're bored you go around with a chip on each shoulder. You quarrel over trifles."

"It's trifles that wreck happiness. Little picayune things that you can laugh off when you're not bored or tired."

"Money makes divorcees, too. I believe wives should have separate allowances, of a certain amount, each week or month, except when the most abject poverty prevents it."

"A wife who has to ask her husband for every dollar, she spends is likely to lose her taste for him when he says: 'What did you do with that five dollars I gave you last week?'"

Not Many Screen Folk Divorced.

sons in the acting end of the motion picture industry there are just 109 divorcees on record? Of course you didn't. The happy homes never get on the front page of the newspapers; the divorcees do."

Miss Baird was born in Chicago, several years ago, she says. She is a brunette of the Juno type; tall and robust. She has none of the postures and poses of her haughty beauty, though she's handsome. Her brown eyes are beautiful, but she uses them for seeing and smiling, not for gymnastic purposes, off the screen.

She looks straight at you, like a man, and talks simply in a good Chicago voice without any frills.

Brought Husband and Pet Pekinese Her husband Arthur F. Beck, looks like any business man whose shoes hurt him. Perhaps that is just his manner with reporters asking his wife impertinent questions. He cuts and titles and edits her pictures and attends to the distribution.

Miss Baird made her first appearance at the National Theater Monday afternoon. She arrived on the 3:55 train from Houston, was met at the station by Mayor Ernest Watson who tendered her the keys of the city, and told her to select any oil well she wanted in the great forest of derricks. She graciously refused since she is interested in the production of silver sheets rather than golden fluids.

Large crowds, growing bigger daily, have gathered at the National Theater since that time. Her last appearance will be tonight when her four young ladies who have been selected by Miss Baird, because of their facial value on the screen, to participate in the contest which will then be decided by the audience.

Early this morning, following delegates to the Lions Convention, at Waco, Lions W. K. Boyd, Sam Suravitz, W. C. Wilson, W. E. McKinney and Rex Forrest left in automobile

New License Com. To Be Rushed by "Boxers In Bad"

BY HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
NEW YORK, April 11.—All of the pool exiles who have been tied outside to watch the devouring of the boxing "plums" probably will make a rush for seats at the table now that Governor Smith has officially rebuked William Muldoon, chairman of the New York Commission.
The act of the Governor is going back to the former method of regulating the sport license commission and a regulatory commission and in appointing a prominent lawyer to act with Muldoon on the former commission, undoubtedly was designed to

COURTENAY DINWIDDIE

As officers of the American Child Health Association, Courtenay Dinwiddie and Dr. Thomas D. Wood are associated with Herbert Hoover, the president, in a great undertaking the slogan of which is "To Save the Mother and Child." Mr. Dinwiddie is the general executive of the Association and Dr. Wood one of the three vice-presidents.

Both these officials are splendidly equipped for the tasks they have undertaken. Mr. Dinwiddie was connected from 1904 to 1907 with Bellevue and its allied hospitals of New York, whence he went to Duluth, where for three years he was active in developing social service and health bodies. He was superintending of Public Welfare there and was responsible for its celebrated housing code.

From Duluth Mr. Dinwiddie went to Cincinnati. At first he was superintending of the Anti-Tuberculosis League, but later fathered the Public Health Federation. He was also associated with a health experiment in the Mohawk-Brighton district, which established new standards and methods for the protection of the health of babies and younger children especially. As executive secretary of the National Child Health Council, a group of six big organizations formed in 1920, he was prominently identified with the first successful step in the coordination of National health activities, a movement which led directly to the recent amalgamation which brought about the American Child Health Association.

Dr. Wood long has been recog-

nized as an authority on child health and has devoted much of his time to this work. He is college physician and professor of physical education at Teachers' College, Columbia University. As chairman of the joint committee of the American Medical Association and the National Education Association he has been especially active in developing standards for the health of school children.

The American Child Health Association has taken the "Children's Bill of Rights," drawn up by Mr. Hoover, as a declaration of its purposes.

The American Child Health Association's national headquarters is at 532 Seventeenth Street, Washington, D. C. Applications for membership may be made to the treasurer, Corcoran Thom, at that address.

Patterson's Column

Several friends and customers have been interested enough in this advertising column to inquire, and a few even to write in to know why the column was suspended.

One person even went so far as to say "she read every word in my column the minute she finished the editorial by Garland Adair."

This is indeed a compliment. To come any where near being as interesting as Adair's editorials is something any advertising writer might be proud of.

My column was suspended temporarily because I had expected to put on another style of advertising this month.

On account, however of not getting cuts ready I was compelled to be out of the city for ten days. I have, in company with others taken over the stock of J. A. Guthrie, bankrupt, at Hillsboro and go there today to start an auction sale and close up the business.

Another sale of a large stock at Houston will occupy most of my time until May 1st by which time I will be on the jewelry job strictly right here in Mexia.

Please remember that our repair shop is every day turning out remodeling jobs that make old style jewelry twice as valuable and beautiful.

Don't forget our Victrola department. We are selling more records so the distributor informs us than any town three times the size of Mexia—and the distributors ought to know. Big stock of Victor Red Seals as well as popular stuff. Also we are selling the splendid Columbia records.

Come in and hear your favorite. Thank you.

—Patterson.

STREET CLEANING

Claud King, manager of Cheever Brothers of this city, set a splendid example for others of the business district recently, when he took it upon himself to clean the pavement in the street in front of that establishment. About a half an hour he spent and at a cost of only a very small sum, in that period he improved the appearance of the street there by a large percent. Should others follow this plan, in thirty minutes, some morning all of the paving in the business district could be transformed, so that it would yield a full 100 per cent in efficiency and in attractiveness as well. The sidewalks in front of business houses are constantly showing improved appearances, as quite a number of firms have the brooms applied to them several times a day when necessary to keep them clean and looking their best. Such cooperation is helpful in many ways. The city coffers and the city officials should not be depended upon in every instance to attend to every thing. Of course, the care of the streets in Mexia, those paved and those unpaved as well, is an important item in civic affairs. It is expected that as soon as the alley and the block adjacent to the H. & T. G. station are paved the city will secure machines to keep the pavement swept and clean. In the meantime individual cooperation is insisted upon.

With all these delegations attending conventions, district, and state, why not launch a campaign to bring some of them to Mexia. Mexia has all the advantages necessary to take care of tremendous crowds and the city is losing some very valuable advertising by not making some endeavor along these lines.

While Mexia is accomplishing so many wonderful things and while so many places are striving to secure the West Texas Technological College, it might be well to state that, for far, this city has not put in a bid for that institution.

We will well welcome a well on the Welch.

The Story of Baking Powder

In unfolding the romantic story of baking powder, this newspaper purposes in a series of five articles to give its readers, particularly its women readers, a short course in that branch of kitchen chemistry which involves the use of this culinary ingredient. There are various kinds of baking powders. All have virtues, all have limitations. What are they? What is the exact function of baking powder? How may it be used successfully, how successfully, with respect to health. The answer to these and other questions, together with the narrative of the development and remarkable growth which have marked this industry, make of this course an account of absorbing interest and worthwhile content. They are prepared on the authority of skilled chemists, and should be clipped and posted in the family cookbook.

(Fourth Article.)

Previous articles in this series on "The Story of Baking Powder" have brought out the interesting facts that there are four kinds of baking powder on the market now, and that some are broadly claimed in two ways, one of which is popularly known as the "cream of tartar" baking powder, and the other, so-called "alum" baking powder. The merits of these respective groups have been discussed, and in this article attention is turned to the history of the commercial evolution of this most necessary culinary ingredient.

This phase of the story is essentially a reflection of the times—the march and progress of the modern, the age-old rivalry between the young and the old. As one chemist says:

"It is impossible to go very far into the history of this very necessary kitchen article without describing some of the battles which we later-day chemists have fought, and fought successfully, against the old-fashioned chemists who still think that the old-fashioned cream of tartar baking powder is as good as the so-called alum baking powder."

To the impartial observer it appears this chemist is right. It may be difficult of belief, but it is true, nevertheless, that in the apparently prosaic manufacture of baking powder is contained one of the most dramatic and interesting, though at times sordid, stories that one could read.

The story is told in all its thrilling details in court records, in articles by such writers as Lincoln Steffens and Cressy Morrison. These stories tell how a large baking powder company attempted to drive out the independent manufacturers by means of attacks on alum and phosphate as ingredients of baking powder. The records carry the story of indictments of big business men and of the expropriation of at least two men whose fortunes can be counted in the millions, but whose money cannot buy them the right again to live on the homeland without peril of facing those indictments. The records also carry documentary evidence of bribed legislators and bought and paid for state officials who, for sordid gold, for a time betrayed their trusts to poison the minds of the housewives against so-called alum baking powder.

The records also carry the story of insidious propaganda which falsely said that phosphate was the excreta of birds and other animals, or that it was made from burned bones treated with oil and vitriol. This propaganda described both alum and phosphate as "caustic mineral acids which were deleterious to health."

All this is almost unbelievable. Court records, however, and documentary evidence are available as an irrefutable proof.

And most amazing is the fact that the large baking powder concerns which disseminated all this misinformation proceeded, while its propaganda was distributed throughout the country, to manufacture and sell, under another firm name, alum baking powder.

In this connection it is of interest to note that the Federal Trade Commission recently proceeded against this company charging false and misleading advertising and misbranding of its products. This company, refusing to take the order of the Federal Trade Commission to desist from its unfair and misleading actions, appealed to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, demanding that the order against them be dismissed. The United States court upheld the commission's order which declared that the company's circulars, which warned the purchasing public against the use of phosphate baking powders and claimed that cream of tartar was the only healthful acid ingredient of baking powder, was not only an unfair business practice but that it was false and misleading and constituted misbranding of its goods.

THE EDITORIAL OF THE DAY

MEXIA'S SPLENDID RECORD

The following clipping from the Stewart's Special, a financial magazine published in Kansas City and which has a wide range of circulation may be of interest to citizens of Mexia.

From Ben F. Stollenwerk, Secretary of the Mexia, (Tex.) Chamber of Commerce, who says: "Business conditions in Mexia, Texas, are good. The oil fields adjacent to the city of Mexia are producing approximately 60,000 barrels of oil per day, which is selling at $2.50 per barrel. Fairly good crops of cotton, corn and oats, sweet potatoes and fruit were raised in 1932 with splendid prospects for 1933. The town, which has grown from 3,800 to 10,000 population since 1920, is being paved, the business district covered with a pavement. Ten miles of this paving will be laid. A complete system of storm and sanitary sewers, water and gas systems have been completed within the last twelve months. $250,000 is being spent for additional school facilities and an equal amount has been spent for churches and business buildings and residences of substantial character have been completed or are in the course of construction on every hand. The Chamber of Commerce raised by private subscriptions the amount of $60,000 during December, which is exclusive of the lot already owned, out of which a Y. M. C. A. building will be constructed. A public library is fast being completed. The most recent exploit of the Chamber of Commerce is the raising of $400,000 to build a cotton mill, construction of which will be begun soon after April 1st, and it is contemplated that this project will be completed in January, 1934. It is a remarkable fact that this amount was raised to build the cotton mill without a single penny being spent for promotion fees, and the Industrial Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, of which J. K. Hughes is chairman, deserve a vast amount of praise for their efficient work."

HOW THE GAP WAS BRIDGED

By J. H. PUELICHER,
President of the American Bankers Association.

We sometimes hear hopeless expressions over the prospects of solving the problem of the relations between employer and employee. In at least one great business the way has been found. The same principle can be applied to solving it for others.

J. H. Puelicher

Twenty-five years ago bank clerks were not elevated to official positions. Usually a successful man in some line of endeavor, who had accumulated sufficient, purchased that little glowing glory, a bank presidency, to wind up his career.

The bank clerk had to start as messenger with a very insufficient salary and was usually employed at twelve or fifteen years of age. He learned something about the practical working of the bank but very little about general theory. The president knew something about the theory of business but mighty little about banking. Consequently banks did not arrive at the degree of efficiency they have obtained in the last few years.

through meeting the greater requirements of the nation's commercial life.

There came a time when a few ambitious men hoped to bridge the gap from a clerkship to official position. They first organized clubs to study in their own banks the theory and practice of banking. Then those who had a larger vision began to invite clerks from other banks to sit in the study clubs. Soon the study club became a community club.

Twenty-one years ago, three hundred of these men met in Cleveland. At that time there were just three chairs of commerce and banking in the universities of the United States. These men did not know where to turn for instruction. Bank officers frequently volunteered to help them. Those three hundred have grown into a study club of 54,000 men and women today. It is now called the American Institute of Banking. The Institute is composed of the officers of banks and the clerks of banks. The line of demarcation has vanished. They are professional associates.

What has been accomplished in banking—this linking together of the interests of all those who are getting their livelihood from the same business—will some day solve the problem between capital and labor. That is the only way we can hope to do it. People deriving their income from one business must have a common purpose, not an antagonistic purpose. As they come to be professional brethren in the business, their troubles will be solved.

KIDDIES' SCHOOL SAVINGS GROW

Deposits Over Four Million Dollars in Few Months; Boys and Girls Own Balances of $14,000,000

Savings of pupils through school savings banking systems in the United States during the first part, ending January 31, of the present school year, totaled $4,428,000, according to reports compiled by the Savings Bank Division of the American Bankers Association. The total for the school year will be over $7,000,000 if the deposits continue at this rate, as compared with five and a half million dollars for the previous school year.

The number of pupils reported as participating in the school savings systems on January 31 was 1,594,144, as compared with 1,375,000 last year, 800,000 the previous year and 462,000 in the school year ending in 1928. In schools which have savings banking systems the proportion of enrollment which participates is tending to increase. Teachers and bankers who interest themselves in the movement make every effort to obtain a place for their systems on the honor roll published semi-annually by the American Bankers Association through its Savings Bank Division.

Savings Balar, is Double The reported bank balances owned by the pupils have more than doubled already in the current school year, January 31 showing $14,000,000 as compared with $6,382,000 on June 30, 1932, and $4,434,000 on June 30, 1931. While the increased balances reflect improvement in industrial conditions, it is probable that part of the increase is statistical, due to improved accounting methods.

An important feature of school savings banking, on which no statistics can be obtained, is the extent to which the teachers are inculcating thrift in money matters and the advantage of saving systematically a part of all income. This is the basic purpose of school savings banking, the collection of deposits being deemed as only an item in the broad program of thrift education in the schools. The National Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher Associations is on record as giving "unqualified assistance to the establishment of thrift instruction as a regular part of the curriculum of the schools of our country."

DE VALERA ... F... uars fled from a net flung around a meeting at Clonmel where a bloody chase ended in the capture of Liam Lynch rebel chieftain. Lynch died of wounds last night.

De Valera and the Countess narrowly escaped. Free State troops picked up the trail and were close behind their quarry this morning. The rebel leaders are thought to have fled to an insurgent nest in the mountains, where it may take months to hunt them down. The Government, believing he end of the insurrection is in sight, has ordered that the pursuit be pushed to a finish.

A dramatic end to De Valera's fight against the Free State and more than likely to his life at the same time is looked for by Government officials within a fortnight. They declare that now is the time to throw every resource into pursuit of the rebel "freedom" before he has an opportunity to organize new irregular armies and renew his guerilla warfare.

The Countess Marciwicz is regarded as an even more dangerous rebel for she is more active in a military way than De Valera, and even more fearless.

On account of other affairs coming on the same date the Elks announce that the date of their yearly anniversary celebration is extended from May 11 to 18, one week later. This will in no way conflict with their plans for a real celebration upon this date and from "inside" information it will be a day long to be remembered by members.

Louisiana Lady Says She Has "New or Found Anything Better Than Cardui for a Run-Down Condition."

Morgan City, La.—"It would be hard for me to tell how much benefit I have derived from the use of Cardui," said Mrs. I. G. Bowman, of 1319 Front Street, this city.

"I was so run-down in health I could hardly go. I was thin. I had no appetite. Could not rest or sleep well. I was so weak, and so very nervous, I was no pleasure to myself."

"I suffered some pain, but the worst of my trouble was from being so weak and easy to get tired and out of heart."

"This nervous condition was worse than pain."

"Some one told me of Cardui, and I decided to use it."

"After using a few bottles, I regained my strength. I wasn't so nervous, and began to eat and sleep, and grew stronger and was soon well."

"I have never found anything better for a run-down condition."

If you suffer as this Louisiana lady did, you, too, should find Cardui helpful for your troubles.

Quick Quaker Oats

Cooks to perfection in 3 to 5 minutes

You Can Sleep

Longer now, if you wish

Quaker Oats now comes in two styles, identical in quality and flavor.

Our experts have perfected Quick Quaker Oats—the quickest cooking oats in the world. It cooks in from 3 to 5 minutes, and it cooks to perfection.

Now your oat dish can be ready, if you wish, before the eggs or coffee.

Now two great supremacies

Now Quaker Oats in two ways excel any other oats in existence. Long ago its flavor won the world. It has made Quaker Oats the dominant brand wherever oats lovers live.

Quaker is flaked from queen grains only—just the rich, plump, luscious oats. We get but ten pounds from a bushel, but those ten pounds are the finest oats that people ever get.

Now comes quick cooking. Quick Quaker is flaked from the same queen grains. But the oats are cut before flaking. They are rolled very thin and are partly cooked. So the flakes are smaller and thinner—that is all. And those small, thin flakes cook quickly. If you want exquisite flavor you must get Quaker Oats. If you want five-minute cooking you must get them. Get either or both, as you like. But get Quaker always if you want this dish delightful.

STRENGTH AND SAFETY IN THE BODY OF STEEL

If you could see the main body structure of Dodge Brothers Business Coupe before the enamel is baked on, and before the interior is furnished, you would be profoundly impressed by its strength.

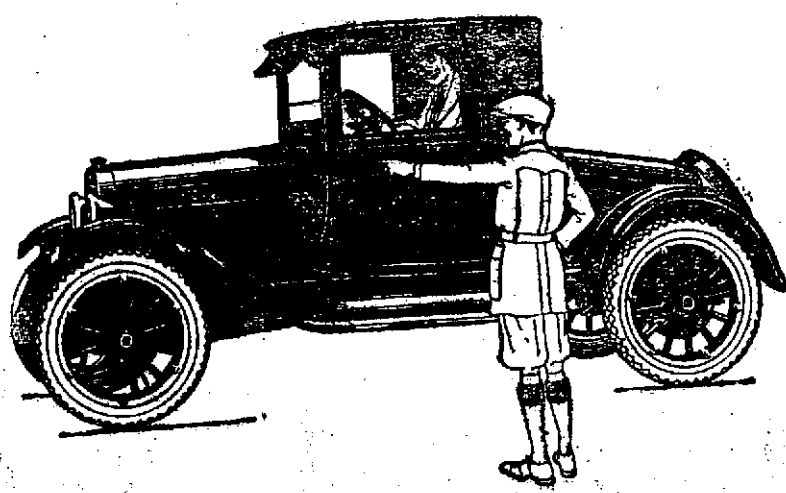

You would see that every panel, every pillar, and every rib is steel—that even the door sills and window moldings are steel.

You would see that all of these parts and sections are electrically welded together into one staunch steel body, with no bolts or rivets to work loose, nothing to rattle or squeak or warp.

And you would realize that, like the all-steel Pullman coach, this unique construction—originated by Dodge Brothers for this car—represents the last word in protection to passengers—the ultimate achievement in closed car sturdiness.

Gushers Meet Busters Here Thursday

Last Game Here Previous To Opening Of League

BY HECK

Business is picking up at the local ball yard and manager Northern announces the final match of spring training games which are as follows: April 12, Corsicana at Mexia, April 14-15, Mexia at San Antonio, April 17, Mexia at Corsicana. That will conclude all the side show stuff until the bell rings and we whom the daylight out of Marlin in the opening game at Marlin, April 19.

Manager Northern announces the purchase of catcher McLain from the Ft. Worth Club and the Zeb Howell will report the 12th all set for the fray and in these two the Gushers have two fast, peppy and great fielding players. You fans know what Zeb Howell can do, but all the same he will have to step some to horn in on the infield that we have on hand now.

McLain is a sweet catcher and the Fort Worth papers have boosted him highly but there was no chance for him to break the Possum Moore-Homer Haworth combination of the Panthers and also he will have been competition with Blum who has did all the catching for the Gushers to date and he is a hard working receiver and looks good in all departments. To me it looks like Mexia has a splendid club on hand and with the two additions named above I cannot help but feel that the Gushers will be in the fight for the rag from the very first. Of course we will lose games, perhaps many of them as all clubs do, but on the seasons play I look for Hub Northern to lead us to the flag pole. The Gushers are strong in every department and will get better as the season advances as they should do and I know many of you fans have been impatient for the club to "show something" but Northern is too wise at the game to allow his club to condition too quickly and has rounded out the training season slowly and with but one purpose in view—to just reach the proper condition on the date the season opens and that is just what he has did. The club will improve in hitting and fielding as the season grows and the main idea of the training season is to get the players that are physically fit. Carl Hill gave me the best definition for this when a fan asked him why he did so much running, jumping and other gymnastic stunts instead of pitching several hours a day and Carl replied "There

TRAINING SCHEDULE OF THE GUSHERS

April 12 Corsicana at Mexia.
April 14-15, Mexia vs. San Antonio, at San Antonio.
April 17, Mexia at Corsicana.
These games will wind up the spring training games prior to the opening of the season April 19 with Mexia at Marlin.

is but one success to a ball player in the spring and that is to get himself physically fit first and if a player will develop his wind, work off the surplus weight, and get his legs and body in perfect physical condition, he can go out there and play his position as it should be played and the fielding and hitting will naturally follow a player who is in perfect condition. And you will see me doing this a long time before I ever pitch a ball. And that is just what he did. I am not going to rave over the Gushers as some other writers are doing their clubs but I am firm in my opinion that Mexia has the goods and will be in on the flag question. I will do my raving when the ravings are due—and believe me I am some little raver.

Athletic Event By Nowlin Post Is Being Planned

The Executive Committee of the American Legion met Tuesday night with Post Commander Owen F. Watkins and arrangements were made to hold an athletic event at the Hope Theatre on East Commerce street Thursday night, April 19.

The final details will be worked out and explained at the meeting of the Nowlin Post at the regular weekly meeting tomorrow night.

Every member is urged to be present at the meeting and cooperate in the entertainment that is being planned.

Commander Watkins assures the public that this event will be strictly under the supervision of the Nowlin Post and that the public will be given good clean sport of a high order and of much interest.

There will be an advance ticket sale and the entire citizenship and public are cordially invited.

The Hope Theatre is the open air theater on East Commerce in the business district. A stage will be built and the seating capacity of the place is estimated into the several hundred. It is expected to be taxed to accommodate the crowd that will likely attend.

Turney and Ellisor Win Friday's Shoot

At the Mexia Gun Club shoot last Friday there was lots of interest shown during the afternoon, when everyone competed in the prize winning events of the afternoon. There were six prizes given away, two to each squad. The first prize was awarded to the highest scores, then a booby prize to the lowest. E. B. Turney and Doc Ellisor carried first honors and M. W. Anderson, W. B. Hendon, and L. J. Ingram received the low prize.

The public is cordially invited to take part in the shoot and the club is open for memberships. The shoots are held on Tuesdays and Fridays of each week, beginning at 4:30 p. m. on the Freeman addition tract on South Ross Avenue. All ladies and all men, 50 years of age or over, are entitled to honorary membership.

SPORTLIGHTS

BY HECK

Catcher Mills received his release Monday. The little fellow looked pretty good but had no chance with Blum on the job and McLain, the catcher we bought from Fort Worth.

This fellow, McLain who has trained all spring with Jake Atz and his Panthers is touted as a coming star and he came to Fort Worth from his home in Illinois on his own expense to train with the Panther crew. The dope is that he is not only a great throwing catcher but is a regular dynamo of pep behind the plate.

McLain is also in the rookie class and is playing his first year of professional ball which makes him all the more valuable to the Gusher club.

Conyers a right handed pitcher reported to Hub Tuesday and began training. Conyers was due long ago but illness has held him back. Conyers and Left Hawk, who will not report for at least a month on account of a broken finger or something, are the only two players who have not reported of the original list.

If Lefty Hawk does not report he will find the going mighty tough now as our present staff is showing extra good and Hub is due to have a strong pitching staff.

Zeb Howell will report the 12th and then there will be some tail hustling among the infield candidates. Howell is a might sweet fielder and

"THE OLD RELIABLE"

Ancient philosophers, and even some moderns, have pictured Opportunity as an old man, declining in years. They believed and taught that Opportunity passed but once in a lifetime and must be seized at once or forever lost.

Today we know better. Opportunity is youth and stands at every man's door, year in and year out, during a great part of his lifetime, urging you to leave the crowded quarters in the congested district, with its grime and noise and lack of fresh air, holding out to you the prospect of a beautiful home, surrounded by well-kept grounds, skirted by broad boulevards, where you and your wife and little ones can really live and grow and develop and gain happiness and success.

Now is the time to build—or buy—that home of your own. We offer you building materials of the highest quality at reasonable prices. We are ready to assist you in choosing plans, from a thousand designs in our "Photographic Plan Service."

Grain Production May Be Normal Says Lyman West

CHICAGO, April 10.—America's grain production this year may still be normal despite a late planting season, drought, labor shortage and other handicaps.

The situation is not yet serious, in the opinion of the best informed sources in Chicago, the country's agricultural capital. Lyman West, statistician for the Chicago Board of Trade, and noted authority, declared there is yet plenty of time for spring wheat planting and for winter wheat to develop.

West regards the bullishness of the market and pessimistic reports from the various quarters as the usual "seasonal weather scare." He called attention to the fact that reports of drought from the Southwest, late winters from the Northwest—the spring wheat section—and chinch and green bug scares from Indiana, Illinois, Oklahoma and Texas are usual events.

The Chicago statistician gave the visible supply of American wheat at 2,356,000 bushels today as compared with 2,456,000 bushels last year. The invisible supply, he said, may bring the total this year down to a little less than last. Experts also pointed out that the Government's estimate of winter wheat production is 572,317,000 bushels, only a little less than last year and more than the average.

Along with the reports of drought and late winter in the wheat belt came more significant reports that farmers are planning to reduce acreage of spring wheat in the Northwest because of the low price which has steadily fallen for the last three years. W. H. Moorehouse, director of research for the American Farm Bureau, said he had received such reports from officials of the Northwestern wheat growers and individual farmers.

"I am not in the least bullish on wheat prices," said West. "There is yet plenty of time for a crop and I can foresee no shortage."

West, in pointing out that the storage supply is near normal, declared also that there is 9,844,000 bushels of Canadian wheat in the United States against 3,699,000 last year.

Most experts said the labor situation was admittedly bad, but added that it would fit in well with plans of farmers to attempt a diversification of crops.

LEAH BAIRD FILM SHOWS

HOW DIVORCE IS FAILURE

In the Associated Exhibitors picture, "Is Divorce a Failure?" by and with Leah Baird, there is presented the interesting story of a man who finds his previous wife hesitating to marry the man for whom she divorced her husband and decides to take a chance on winning her back. This should prove interesting. If the man can win back his divorced wife, then divorce, instead of marriage is a failure! If the man who stole her affections from her husband continues to hold her, marriage may again prove a failure and lead her again to the divorce court!

The National Theater announces "Is Divorce a Failure?" as the main attraction on their program for today. Miss Baird adapted it from the stage play "All Mine," by Dorian Neve and it is said to be the biggest picture produced by Arthur F. Beck. Not only has it the usual strong dramatic plot that has heretofore characterized Miss Baird's photoplays, but it has been given a spectacular production, thrills being provided by a shipwreck, a fight with a man-eating shark, a volcanic eruption, a typhoon and a tornado.

"IS DIVORCE A FAILURE?" IS LEAH BAIRD'S GREATEST

In "Is Divorce a Failure?" he Associated Exhibitors feature now playing at the National Theater and remanaging, until Wednesday Miss Leah Baird again proves that she is an actress of great emotional talent and beauty. Her picture always have two elements which insure popularity—handsome and varied setting and a story of strong emotional appeal.

"Is Divorce a Failure?" has even greater eye, mind and heart appeal than her preceding pictures. Most of the action transpires on a desert island that is guarded by a volcano. Other spectacular thrills are provided by a typhoon, a shark fight and a shipwreck.

Victims of Krupp Killings Buried In Essen, Germ.

BY CARL D. GROAT

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

BERLIN, April 10.—Germany today buried the thirteen workmen shot down by French troops at the Krupp works at Essen, according to the victims all honors as though they had fallen on the field of battle.

Bells tolled throughout the Republic, from the Rhine to East Prussia and from Lake Constance to the North Sea, at the moment when a quiet procession, with thirteen odd, open-faced hearses containing pentagonal caskets wended through the streets of Essen.

Mourner in frock coats and top hats followed the caskets through the hushed streets of the Ruhr city, while thousands of workers, overalls stained with rust and coal, halted their work for an hour in tribute to the dead.

In Berlin, the Reichstag chamber was draped with crepe and decorated with laurel. Chancellor Cuno, President Ebert and leaders of all parties assembled at 10 o'clock for services made up largely of speeches of regret at "French bitterness."

The workmen for whom the Nation mourned were shot down with machine guns at the Krupp works after efforts of a French patrol to requisition automobiles had been resisted. In his speech Chancellor Cuno expressed readiness to enter free negotiations based upon reparations possible of fulfillment.

"Until our opponents are willing to negotiate on this basis," he declared, "passive resistance must continue." "In the name of the dead we ask the nations of the world how long it will be until the end of this insane mistreatment of the Ruhr," Cuno continued.

"We Germans have constantly sought an understanding. We have offered France securities, she has not accepted them."

"Even when the enemy stood within our borders we proved our desire for understanding by appropriating as our own the proposals of the American Secretary of State."

"Today, at the graveside of our dead we still are ready to enter free negotiations leading to an understanding. However, sacrifices are vain if peace and freedom are not secured. Reparations must not be brought to a measure where they cannot be fulfilled."

"No arrangement will be reached which fails to give the Ruhr and Rhine land freedom. As long as our oppoent is not ready for this, our passive resistance must continue."

The Chancellor appealed for solidarity.

"In this battle there must be no parties. Single will must unite us. 'Act as though upon the outcome of your behavior depended the fate of Germany.'"

Bridgegroom of Three Months Killed by Bomb

CHICAGO, April 10.—Stanley King, bridgegroom of a few months, was killed in one of a series of three bomb explosions which damaged or wrecked as many buildings and rocked surrounding neighborhoods here last night and early today.

Although the explosions closely followed three declared to have been set by opponents of the Ku Klux Klan, police, after a preliminary investigation, announced belief that they were the work of "black hand" terrorists. Italians owned or were occupants of all the places bombed.

At Flourney street and Francisco avenue, where King was killed, a bomb was hurled from a passing auto; falling short of an apartment building and hitting the curb. A hole was torn in the street.

King, returning from the Maymarket Theatre, where he was employed, was decapitated as he was about to enter his home.

As police arrived Mrs. King, the victim's bride, ran to the street crying: "I knew it!"

She collapsed and became unconscious. Police were unable to question her to find out what she was taking about. A few minutes afterwards another bomb damaged a building on North Keystone avenue and three hours later a third wrecked a market owned by Vito Buccalo on West Division street.

Manano Zongora, owner of the apartment in front of which King was killed, told police he had no enemies. John Tolara, owner of the

SPORTLIGHTS

Now wouldn't that jar your preserves? McKinney has replaced Taylor in the Texas Association. I wish some of you fans would look me up and let me know just who is who in this league and also let me know why Doak Roberts left McKinney out of the schedule. When did Taylor get in the league, anyhow? I am sure all mixed up or else the Board of Arbitration is all flooey and skitkaborious.

Just so they don't mess around and put us in the Pacific Coast league before someone stops 'em. It sure would be a long jump from here to Seattle and then jump back for a Sunday game.

"Expert says Heredity is big factor in Golf" says the headlines in the big papers. They tell me that coal oil will cure that every time but I can't say for sure as I never had the Heredity but I imagine that it is something like dandruff or something. I hope it aint catching outside of golf players. It sure would ruin a ball club.

In spite of the fact that Secretary Gayle sent out the official schedule several days ahead of time with instructions to not publish same until April 8 the Corsicana Sun ran it the 7th and the Austin American a week sooner. Why they did this I can't figure when the instructions were written across the schedule in box car letters.

I got some good stuff for you fans in the near future so watch for it and then tell me what you think of it.

It's a secret now but you will be let in on it pronto.

A friend of mine said in the Chocolate Shop the other day that he liked the stuff Clover put out in the sport columns but this guy "By Heck" sure was rotten and he couldn't understand why Clover let that bird mess up his sport page. Alright, Cartwright, I'll see that you get your wish. I don't think much of him myself.

Jinx Tucker of the Waco News-Tribune refers to the Waco Indians as the probably pennant winners of the T. A. League. That suits us over here Jinx, but I think you have your wires crossed and you have a "short" in your ignition, but keep on boosting the home town club. That is what we are all doing.

At noon today Hub and his whole gang were dined by the Salesmanship Club but as yet I have not learned the actual casualty list, but with Claude Bryan, Socks Slaughter, Carl Hill, Old Eagle Pass and Dad Harkins all eating at the same time and in the same room there is bound to be some serious disturbance.

I also noticed that the Texas cafe had just had their new silver knives sharpened and now I am afraid to look the gang in the face. Someone is sure to be cut up something fierce.

Manager Grubb is using Clopp Craig and Sengotta in the outfield, and believe me they are a clever set of fly hawks. On the infield he is using Bob Speegle at first, Malmquist at second, Sain at short and himself at third, which should measure up with the best infields in the league. Lacy and Siemer are doing the catching, the latter being left there by the Omaha Edgar seem to be the main cogs in club. Cantrell, Arguijo, Rosenaur, and the pitching end and all are good.

According to the dope Bob Speegle is setting 'em afire with his first base stuff at Guimboville. I am sure glad that Harvey has a good club. He will need it when he plays the Gushers.

Hurrah, look at this: Auburn, N. Y. April 9.—The Board of Arbitration of the National Association Baseball leagues, announced the following changes in the minor leagues.

Territory of Sherman and Corsicana transferred to the Texas Association. McKinney, Texas has replaced Taylor in the Texas Association.

RED PEPPER HEAT STOPS BACKACHE

The heat of red peppers takes the "ouch" from a sore, lame back. It can not hurt you, and it certainly ends the torture at once.

When you are suffering so you can hardly get around, just try Red Pepper Rub, and you will have the quickest relief known. Nothing has such concentrated, penetrating heat as red peppers.

Just as soon as you apply Red Pepper Rub you will feel the tingling heat. In three minutes it warms the sore spot through and through. Pain and soreness are gone.

Ask any druggist for a jar of Rowles Red Pepper Rub. Be sure to get the genuine with the name of Rowles on each package. (Adv.)

Mexialions Go to Waco Convention Today

Delegates selected to attend the Fifth Annual District Convention of Lions Clubs at Waco left Mexia by automobile early Wednesday morning to be in attendance at the one-day session when it opened at nine o'clock.

Besides the five delegates, J. I. Ridge, J. K. Hughes, John H. Sweatt, F. W. Welch, and G. W. Perkins, about 15 members were preparing to join the delegation in attendance, but the rain early this morning prevented.

The program Friday is in charge of E. L. Smith, who has arranged for entertainment and speeches, as well as a detailed report from the delegates who visited the Waco Convention. Another record attendance is expected at the luncheon Friday.

The Tally

It isn't the job we intended to do, Or the labor we've just begun, That puts us right on the ledger sheet, It's the work we have really done.

Our credit is built upon things we do, Our debit on things we shirk; The man who totals the biggest plus Is the man who completes his work.

Good intentions do not pay bills; It's easy enough to plan, To wish is the play of an office boy; To do is the job of a man.
